CARTOON NOTES

Happy New Year, everybody!! Welcome to the first CARTOON NETWORK STARRING lettercolumn of the new millennium. We have good news and bad news regarding the coming year for the Kids' Line at DC Comics.

First the bad news: there are only two issues left of ANIMANIACS. We're sorry to see such memorable characters go, but unfortunately it was the only way for us to bring new projects to the line. Which brings us to the good news: you're only two months away from the premiere of the all-new POWERPUFF GIRLS comic. That's 22 new pages every month of those elementary school heroines.

Since we'll be seeing a lot more of them, we think that it would be a good idea to get to know them better by asking them a question. We figured that since they're always fighting bad guys, the most logical question would be, "What do you think of evil?"

BLOSSOM:

That is a good question. I think that evil is bad because it does not do any good.

Thank you, Blossom. Bubbles?

BUBBLES:

(begins to cry uncontrollably)

Oh. I...I guess she doesn't like evil either. And what about you, Buttercup?

BUTTERCUP:

Keeps me busy.

Thanks, Buttercup. Well, that's it for us. Join us next month when we'll have another question for the Powerpuff Girls, leading to their all-new comic.

Other DCU Kids' Line Titles:

Dexter's Laboratory #7: In "Beast Master" Dexter becomes the new lord of the Apes. Join Dexter when he blows the biggest bubble ever in "Bubble Boy." By Roman, Delaney, Rozum, Manley and Albrecht.

Looney Tunes #62: Henery Hawk's quest for a chicken continues in "My Little Chick-A-Dope." Sylvester tries to teach Sylvester, Jr. how to catch the mother of all mice—Taz—in "My Mousetake." Talent includes Slott, Alvarez, DeCarlo, Kress and Liebmann.

Scooby-Doo #32: Can Scooby and the gang wrap up the case of a mysterious mummy threatening a movie set? Read "It's a Wrap" to find out. Plus, some of the most fearsome foes in literary history come to life—and they're out to get Scooby in "The Library Lurker." By Abnett, Staton, Hunt, Rozum, Williams, Pepoy and Becton.

Animaniacs #58: The continuing Adventures of Hello Nurse, Agent of H.U.B.B.A., as Nurse Doom attempts to destroy her once and for all. Introducing the Candystripers, and the origin of Nurse Doom is revealed. By Moore, Carolan, Carzon and Ottolini.

next issue:

We hope you're ready 'cause the main man is back. His name? Johnny Bravo! Ever wonder just how tough Johnny is? Well, you're going to find out in "Karate Chump." Then Johnny's nightmare becomes reality when... he doesn't have any of his coolest clothes in "Not a Thing to Wear." Plus, more of Johnny's tips to live by. By Jesse McCann, Dave Schwartz, Dwayne McDuffie, Anthony Williams and others.

This month's cover is by David Schwartz, Mike DeCarlo and Dave Tanguay.
